PRESS RELEASE

Irish Water confirms lifting of Boil Water Notices imposed following Storm Ophelia

Irish Water, working in partnership with Waterford City and County Council, would like to advise customers that a normal water supply has now been restored to customers in the county and it is business as usual.

Boil Water Notices have now been lifted from the Knockalisheen, Modeligo, Carrowgarraff, Ballysaggart, Clashmore, Garravoone, Castlereagh and The Nire water supplies. Customers in these areas can now resume normal use of their water supply for drinking and food preparation.

These boil water notices had been put in place as a precautionary measure in the aftermath of Storm Ophelia.

Irish Water would like to thank ESB Networks locally for their hard work in restoring power to our plants and helping us to ensure that the effects of Storm Ophelia on our customers in Co Waterford were resolved as quickly as possible.

Irish Water would also like to thank the water services staff in Waterford City and County Council for their hard work and diligence.
